Electrical Systems Integration

Enliven your energy matrix! Electrical System Integration (ESI) Blend enhances communication between all of the electrical circuitry in and around the body. This includes your connection to the matrix of the universal All-That-Is, energy fields, chakras, organ energy meridians, cells & nervous systems. ESI does not take the place of balancing individual chakras, organs or other systems.

Here are examples of how Electrical System Integration has worked for our customers.

- Enhancing the communication between the stomach organ energy meridian and the solar plexus chakra could in turn improve digestion. Works well in connection with our Stomach Organ Energy Meridian Blend.
- Creating better communication between the root chakra and the peripheral nerves in the legs opens the chakra in the feet and results in feeling more grounded.
- Reducing amped-up, nervous sensations and creating more calm.
- Helping to repair wounds by improving cellular communication and connecting the injured area to the matrix of the universal All-That-Is.
- Enhancing body-wide communication between the cells for clearer thinking, more stable emotional states, more life-force energy and a brighter outlook on life.

About Body Electric Blends

Body Electric Essences are the newest blends from Tree Frog Farm. They work through the electrical circuitry and electromagnetic fields in and around your body.

Even western medicine is realizing the importance of body electrical information and uses EEGs and EKGs to understand the functioning of your brain and heart.

Tree Frog Farm Essences come in the red shiso base with a handy spray top or in brandy base with a dropper top. Body Electric Blends are unscented and can be used by people who are sensitive to scents. Carry them in your purse or backpack. Use them any time you are around computers, cellphones or other times your electrical circuitry and fields are disrupted.

Each Tree Frog Farm flower and tree essence is energetically grounded through crystals, which informs the way that flower essence seats into the body/mind. Also, each Body Electric Blend is charged in a crystal matrix, which influences the quality and action of that blend.
